- III. Richard Platt, son of George & Mary Platt; bpt May 6, 1604 at Ware, Hertford Co., England; d. at Milford, Conn. before Feb 13, 1684/5, when the inventory of his estate was taken. Richard Platt may have become a tailor like his father and grandfather, since in 1629 he had an apprentice with whom he had some differences. Richard Platt's religious beliefs were profound and Puritan in character. He must have been deeply influenced by the preaching and teaching of Mr. Charles Chauncy, who was vicar of Ware from 1627 to 1633, emigrated to New England in 1638, and served as 2nd president of Harvard College from 1654 to his death, Feb 19, 1671/2. The depth of Richard Platt's religious feelings are shown by his emigration in 1638 or 1639 from the kingdom of England to "Christ's Kingdom,"--the New Haven Colony; by his membership in the church of Milford almost from its foundation and his service as deacon there; and perhaps most clearly by the language of his will. In it, he not only took pains to provide Bibles for 24 of his grandchildren, but made two bequests of five pounds each to be devoted towards the "bringing up" of a young man "to be a schollar" in the Puritan mold.

Richard Platt lived in New Haven Colony long enough to acquire property there: 20 acres in the first division of lands; 4 acres in the "Neck"; 12 acres of meadow; 48 acres in the second division, and paying a yearly rate of 1 pound. He lived in the "Hertfordshire quarter" of New Haven (mostly families from Hertford Co., England), with William Fowler, Rev. Peter Prudden, James Prudden, Edmund Tapp, the Widow Baldwin, Zachariah Whitman, and Thomas Osborne. After moving to Milford in 1640, he gradually sold his New Haven lands.

On Jan 29, 1639/40, Richard Platt joined the Church of Christ of Milford, Conn., at New Haven, where Rev. Peter Prudden and his followers lived from Apr 1638 until the spring of 1640. Richard's wife Mary joined the church on Aug 15, 1641, after Milford had actually been settled. In 1669 Richard Platt was chosen deacon of the Milford Church. The inventory of his estate, taken Feb 13, 1684, totaled 547 pounds, 5 shillings, and 7 pence.

Richard Platt m. Jan 26, 1628/9 at Roydon, Essex Co., England (4 miles southeast of Ware), Mary Wood, dau of John & Jane Wood (see p. 81); bpt Nov 10, 1605 at Roydon; buried March 24, 1675/6 at Milford, Conn.; 9 children:

7. Hannah Platt, bpt Oct 1, 1643; d. after 1702; m. Oct 6, 1663, Christopher Comstock. In 1654 he testified to having visited the convicted witch, Goodwife Knapp, wife of Roger Knapp of Fairfield, Conn., who had been executed for witchcraft in 1653. The visit to the witch was made in company with Thomas Shervington and Goodwife Baldwin. In 1692 he served on the grand jury which indicted Mercy Disbrow and others for witchcraft.
8. Josiah Platt, bpt Nov 1645; d. Jan 1, 1724/5; m. Dec 2, 1669, Sarah Canfield
